

2009 EXPECTATIONS

We expect a colorful foal crop in 2009. With several mares in foal to outside stallions, we will have a greater selection to offer prospective buyers. Nearly all of the expected foals will carry between 30 – 40% Blue Valentine blood. The following is a list of our expecting mares by order of their due date:

Nearly all of the expected 2009 foals will carry 30 – 40% of the blood of Blue Valentine.

VISITORS WELCOME

Visitors are always welcome. We request some advance notice, so we can make every effort that the horses you are most interested in seeing are available. We also realize that it can be difficult to make a trip to see our horses. So, we update our website on a regular basis, and several times per week once foals start to arrive. Many visitors to our website just enjoy seeing fresh foals and their development during the summer.
